Yupdates doesn't show you that because it was designed specifically to detect folders that were updated (neither GDrive nor MEGA reliably show correct modification dates for those). But as for the files within said folder, the information provided by GDrive web interface is accurate, and you can sort based on it, see the attached screencap

I believe in it cause it has worked for me-well that's sad i personally value TRUST the most in this life cause i've been backstabbed before so many time i lost count-i don't see the point in leaking-to get someone's trust is enough burden and hard work i ain't gonna do charity work for others...they want art?!well it ain't free so if they don't wanna pay at least should work on finding and establishing good connections with respectful ppl..and i don't get why are you responding to me in kinda let's say mean way you pressed over something?What did i do different than majority of anons do in this thread...i just asked for help and requested artist why respond to me and tell me what do...I know both boards and i chose to request Anma here cause i knew that here his drive was once shared-besides his art doesn't qualify as bara for most ppl so i doubt it will work not to mention they trade doujinshis over there not rewards...IF ANYONE HAS NEW ANMA REWARDS PLS HIT ME UP FOR PRIVATE SHARING OR TRADING MAYBE USE DISCORD?

Install an OS in a different partition of your computer, at best they are just blocking your IP, so that could be easily fixed, at worst they might have put a file on your computer to check that it's you, and this can be easily fucked over with if you use a different partition. And it'll be good because in case anything happens with the partition you're using right now, you have an easy fix.

Patreon mainly identifies users by cards. If you used those cards with an acc banned by some creators, you won't be able to repledge to them using any on these cards even if you create a new acc. Furthermore, once you use any of "stained" cards with your new account, it's "stained" for its life

I will add it, but if it's anything like a complete variant set please upload it somewhere else (like zippyshare) and post a link here. 4chan tends to remove his stuff rather fast, and even if not, it tends to recompress already crappy jpegs even further, which is not exactly good

That's TomCats (Keita, Kyota or kyouta_(a01891226) as he also goes under) Pixiv page which has been wiped clean. He's not bookmarked anything for months either.

His Twitter and Homepage are down too.

Likelihood is that he's closed down his entire art collection online (although some of his works are classed as private rather than deleted, check sources of some on Gelbooru).

I do recall him posting something on Twitter shortly before he left, but I can't find a link for it now so thus can't locate said tweet.
